

Stellentitel: Transaction and Valuation Manager (f/m/d)

E.ON SE | Permanent | Part or Full time

E.ON is one of Europe's largest operators of energy networks and infrastructure and a provider of innovative energy solutions for more than 50 million customers. Around 72,000 employees are constantly working to digitise the energy world, achieve net zero and connect everyone to good energy. To achieve this, we are focusing our actions on sustainability, digitalisation and growth. We strongly believe that differences make us stronger and welcome all people into our inclusive and diverse culture.

We are looking for a Transaction and Valuation Manager (f/m/d) to join our E.ON SE team as soon as possible. If you are interested, please apply by .

As part of a performance-oriented and highly motivated team you are expected to work independently on challenging tasks with far-reaching implications for the strategic positioning and financial performance of the E.ON Group. In this central steering function you will closely cooperate with other stakeholders both in Corporate Headquarters and in E.ON's Business Units.

A job that inspires

- Being a key member of the valuation and investment expertise hub for the entire E.ON Group
- Leading valuation workstreams and preparing performance analysis for senior management decisions (e.g. E.ON SE Board) on M&A and investment projects with group impact
- Leading the group-wide asset and goodwill impairment test process as well as the purchase price allocation for acquisitions of the E.ON Group (under the applicable IFRS and IDW standards)
- Determining the cost of capital for the E.ON Group and its business units
- Supporting the global capital allocation process
- Governing the Group's valuation and investment policies (incl. continuously refining processes, methods and valuation tools)

A convincing background

- Excellent university degree, ideally complemented by master and/or postgraduate studies in Finance (e.g. Ph.D., CFA or CVA)
- Several years of relevant professional experience in the field of corporate finance, transaction services and/or controlling (with a focus on business valuation)

- Profound knowledge in capital market theory and a very good understanding about the role of key capital market players on pricing mechanism
- Very good analytical skills, a high level of numeracy as well as the ability to work well under time pressure
- Profound experience in financial modelling in combination with excellent skills in MS Excel
- Strong presentation, communication and stakeholder management skills coupled with assertiveness
- High level of self-organization and personal drive combined with experience working in cross functional teams
- Fluency both in English and German
- Ideally knowledge of Financial Market Information Systems (e.g. Bloomberg, S&P Capital IQ)

A motivating environment

- A modern working environment that ensures a good work-life balance through flexible working and home office
- A task full of challenges, in which we jointly design a successful induction
- An appreciative working atmosphere in which mutual trust and respect play a decisive role in teamwork
- A wide range of personal and professional training and development opportunities to support you in the next step in your career
- A strong network, because for us the collegial exchange across company units is in the foreground and offers a wide range of perspectives
- A secure supply with attractive remuneration and various additional benefits, such as in-house sports, child care and company pension schemes

Become part of our team. We look forward to you!
